

CONTENTS OF THE FASCICLE

Page

I. TREATISES AND ARTICLES

1. Michał Kłosiński, Miłosz's "World" Apart. Father – Mother – Krypt . . . . . 5
2. Dariusz Pawelec, Hymnic Code in Czesław Miłosz's Poetry . . . . . 35
3. Agata Stankowska, Czesław Miłosz's Voice in the Controversy over "Incomprehensibility" as a Reiterated Choice of Tradition. On the Discolored Intertexts in "Against Incomprehensible Poetry" and "Postscriptum" . . . . . 55
4. Lidia Wiśniewska, Miłosz and the Philosophy of (Unity of) Diversity . . . . . 75
5. Łukasz Tischner, Miłosz's Evils . . . . . 85
6. Józef Olejniczak, Miłosz within the Limits of Literature . . . . . 99

Problems of Artistic Language

7. Piotr Michałowski, "To Let Me Finally Say..." A Portrait of a Poem with Czesław Miłosz in the Background . . . . . 113
8. Krzysztof Obremski, Zamarła Turnia, the Skotnica Sisters and Developing Equivalence: On Julian Przyboś's "From the Tatras" ("Z Tatr") . . . . . 129

II. MATERIALS AND NOTES

1. Henryk Głębocki, Juliusz Słowacki's Lost Diary from the Voyage to the East (1836–1837) Found after 70 Years in Russian Collections . . . . . 143
2. Maria Kalinowska, The Discovery of Juliusz Słowacki's Diary . . . . . 165
3. Ola Wat's Letters to Czesław Miłosz. Edited by Adam Działek . . . . . 171

III. REVIEWS AND SURVEYS . – IV. CHRONICLE. –

V. DISCUSSION – CORRESPONDENCE