

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Marzena Adamiak – philosopher; assistant professor at the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of the Polish Academy of Sciences in Warsaw; board member of the Polish Phenomenological Association; lecturer on postgraduate Gender Studies at the Institute of Philosophy of the Nicolaus Copernicus University. She is the author of the book Of a Woman Who Comes to Mind. Woman as a Figure of Otherness in the Concept of Subject of Emmanuel Lévinas published in Polish (2007). Her interests lie primarily in the field of subjectivity and identity theories, especially from the perspective of feminist philosophy and phenomenology.

Marta Bucholc – professor of Sociology at Käte-Hamburger-Kolleg 'Recht als Kultur' of the Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn. She obtained her habilitation (post-doctoral degree) (2014) and her Ph.D. (2006) in Sociology at the University of Warsaw. She graduated in Sociology, Philosophy and Law from the University of Warsaw. Her research focus is the history of social theory, the sociology of law and the sociology of knowledge. Her recent books include Sociology in Poland: To Be Continued? (2016), Piąty wymiar [The Fifth Dimension] (2016) and Global Community of Self-Defense (2015). She has translated several books into Polish, including The Sociological Imagination by Charles Wright Mills, Purity and Danger by Mary Douglas and Le Temps de Tribus by Michel Maffesoli. She has also edited the first full Polish translation of Norbert Elias's On the Process of Civilisation.

Andrzej Gniazdowski – philosopher and German translator. His main fields of interests are phenomenology, history of ideas and political philosophy. He wrote a. o. Filozofia i gilotyna. Tradycjonalizm Josepha de maistre'a jako hermeneutyka polityczna [Philosophy and Guillotine. The Traditionalism of Joseph de Maistre as a Political Hermeneutics] (1996); Polityka i geometria. Edmund Husserl i problem demokracji [Politics and Geometry. Edmund Husserl and the Problem of Democracy] (2007); Antynomie radykalizmu. Fenomenologia polityczna w Niemczech 1914-1933 [Antinomies of Radicalism. Political Phenomenology in Germany 1914-1933] (2015). He is an Assistant Professor at the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of the Polish Academy of Sciences.

Małgorzata Kowalska – professor of Philosophy at the University of Białystok, the head of the Department of Philosophy and Ethics at the Faculty of History and Sociology, is by education a student of Romance Languages, a translator of French philosophical literature.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

She is particularly interested in French philosophy and philosophical-socio-political problems; the author of, among others, W poszukiwaniu straconej syntezy. Jean-Paul Sartre i paradygmaty filozoficznego myślenia [In Search of Lost synthesis: Jean-Paul Sartre and the Paradigms of Philosophical Thought] (1996), Dialektyka poza dialektyką. Od Bataille'a do Derridy [Dialectics Beyond Dialectics. From Bataille to Derrida] (2000), Demokracja w kole krytyki [Democracy in the Circle of Criticism] (2005), Morales politiques et postmodernes (2014).

Marcin Król – political philosopher and historian of ideas. The founder and editor of the journal Res Publica and subsequently Res Publica Nowa. The author of many academic publications on the tradition of liberal and conservative thought as well as on political ideas in Poland including: Józef Piłsudski. Ewolucja myśli politycznej (1981) [Józef Piłsudski. The evolution of political thought], Konserwatyści a niepodległość. Studia nad polską myślą konserwatywną XIX wieku (1985) [Conservatives and Independence. Studies into 19th-century Polish Conservative Thought], Liberalizm strachu czy liberalizm odwagi (1996) [The Liberalism of Fear or the Liberalism of Courage], Bezradność liberałów. Myśl liberalna wobec konfliktu i wojny (2005) [The Helplessness of the Liberals. Liberal Thought in Relation to Conflict and War], Czego nas uczy Leszek Kołakowski (2010) [What Leszek Kołakowski Taught us], Europa w obliczu końca (2012) [Europe in the Face of Crisis].

Andrzej Leder – studied philosophy at Warsaw University and in the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of the Polish Academy of Sciences. He works in the field of political philosophy and the philosophy of culture, applying phenomenological and psychoanalytical tools, especially Lacanian psychoanalysis. He has published books in Polish: Nieświadomość jako pustka [Unconsciousness Seen as the Void] (2001), Nauka Freuda w epoce Sein und Zeit [The Teaching of Freud in the Time of Sein und Zeit] (2007), Rysa na tafli [The Scratch on the Glass] (2016) and two collections of philosophical essays; for which he was awarded a literary prize in 2004, and which in 2013 came out in English as The Changing Guise of Myths. His main work in political philosophy Prześniona rewolucja. Ćwiczenie z logiki historycznej [Sleepwalking the Revolution. Exercise in Historical Logics] (2014) was vastly discussed in Poland. He has also published articles in English and French philosophical reviews.

Sławomir Mazurek – philosopher and historian of ideas, Associate Professor at the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of the Polish Academy of Sciences. His primary focus is Russian philosophy, he is the author of several books about the Russian Religious Renaissance, including: Wątki katastroficzne w myśli rosyjskiej i polskiej 1917-1950 [Catastrophic Themes in Russian and Polish Thought from 1917 to 1950]; Utopia i łaska. Idea rewolucji moralnej w rosyjskiej filozofii religijnej [Utopia and Grace: the Idea of Moral Revolution in Russian Religious Thought], Rosyjski renesans religijno-filozoficzny. Próba syntezy [The Russian Philosophical-Religious Renaissance: an Attempt at Synthesis].

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Justyna Melonowska – PhD in Philosophy (Polish Academy of Science, Institute of Philosophy and Sociology), a psychologist (University of Warsaw Psychology Faculty), assistant at the Maria Grzegorzewska Specialist Teaching Academy in Warsaw, a member of the European Society of Women in Theological Research and of the 'Bonds' Laboratory Group, a 'Bonds' publicist. Her research interest cover philosophical personalism, the questions of subjectivism in the writings of the contemporary Catholic Church and religious leadership. She is the author of the monograph 'OSOB(N)A. Kobieta a personalizm Karola Wojtyły – Jana Pawła II. Doktryna i rewizja', which has only recently been published by Difin and Ordo amoris, amor ordinis. Emancipation in Conservative Habitat (in preparation at APS Publishers).

Krzysztof Świrek – sociologist and historian of ideas. Świrek received his PhD in 2016 from the Institute of Sociology, Warsaw University, where he currently teaches classical sociological theory. His research interests include psychoanalysis, Marxism, theories of ideology and theories of class structure.

Paweł Śpiewak (1951) – sociologist, historian of ideas, professor at the University of Warsaw, director of the Jewish Historical Institute. The author of numerous publications including Ideologie i obywatele [Ideologies and Citizens] (1991), Pamięć po komunizmie [Memory of Communism] (2005) and Żydokomuna [Jew-Communism] (2012).

Andrzej Walicki (1930) – retired professor at the Polish Academy of Sciences (PAN) Institute of Philosophy and Sociology as well as at the University of Notre Dame in Indiana, USA; a member of PAN and the author of numerous studies into Russian and Polish Thought, the history of Marxism and Liberal Thought; a cofounder of the Warsaw School of the History of Ideas; winner of the prestigious Balzan Prize (1998).